TO THE CITIZENS OF RENO.

I HAVE BEEN A RESIDENT OF YOUR town for three years, and on side of my own business I have not seen a decent pair of boots that were made here. In order, therefore, to extend to everyone facilities for obtaining really first-class boots and shoes, I have sent to San Francisco for two A. No. 1 mechanics, the best to be found in the country, and shall run (as heretofore) a prime first-class shop. This will mean extra expense, and I look and trust, therefore, to Reno's citizens, and all the people generally desirous of obtaining the very best of workmanship, to aid me with their increased patronage. First-class material, first-class workmen and first-class work, at living rates, as the motto of my coat of arms inscribed on the banner floating from my castle walls.

Respectfully,

WEDNESDAY.....JUNE 6, 1883.

THE POSTAL BONANZA.

The San Francisco Alta says something in the way of a bonanza is now being developed in the Post Office Department. Claim agents are greatly excited thereat, and they have a right to be, for there is probably over $1,000,000 wrapped up in the speculation. It seems that in 1864 a claim agent in Washington, who knew the ins and outs of the Postal Department, concluded that the fourth-class Post Offices throughout the country, viz, those paying $1,000 and under were not paid enough for cancelling stamps, and log-rolled a bill through Congress to give the Postmasters of that grade 10 per cent. more. No appropriation, however, was made and nothing came of it. In 1866 the bill passed again, this time with an appropriation, but for some reason it was not carried into effect. The thing then slept until 1876, when attention was once more called to the matter and the appropriation made available for the settlement of these claims; but, as before, the matter died out. Last session it was once more passed and made retroactive from 1864 to 1879, and now the salary and allowance division of the Post Office Department is literally overwhelmed with claims arising out of this Act. Every man who was Postmaster in those years has a just valid claim against the Government of 10 per cent. in addition to what he received if he was of the fourth-class. Many of these people are now out of office, and probably never gave themselves any further concern touching the little grab. But it is now made lawful, and the claim was just enough, for the Postmasters of that grade were not paid enough for the stamps they cancelled. Agents all over the country are writing the Department about the method of filing claims, and lots of them have already filed piles of claims of parties asking extra allowance. One agent in Washington has over 700 of these claims filed and is receiving piles of letters every day, while others have been for some time flooding the country with circulars, hunting up everybody who was a Postmaster between those years, and getting things in shape for business. This arrangement, which was overlooked and forgotten when the estimates were made up for the postal service, will put the Department in something of a fix, for such an amount of money would swamp the funds now in hand and leave a big deficiency beside. It is going to be a big thing for the Postmasters, and a fat thing for the claim agents as well.

NEW HAMPSHIRE SENATOR.

The New Hampshire Legislature will meet in biennial session to-day. The chief business before it will be to choose a United States Senator to succeed Edward H. Rollins, whose term expired in March last, and who desires very much to be re-elected. His claims are disputed by two rivals for the position—ex-Congressman Briggs and ex-Senator Patterson. The chances of Mr. Rollins are considered the best, unless unforeseen combinations are formed against him. His experience as a legislator stands in his favor. Before becoming a Senator he was a Representative in the Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congress. Mr. Rollins is a Republican.

A FINE BODY.

The members composing the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, at present in session in Reno, are, almost without exception, the most intelligent representative body of men, ever convened together in this State. Such an assemblage reflects credit, not only upon the Order, but upon the State. Their actions while here can not fail to be productive of good to the human family. We glory in the fact of their convening in Reno, and can proudly boast of it in the future. Reno is now in the full enjoyment of Spring time, green fields and budding flowers, and to our visitors must certainly present a lively, healthy and growing appearance, as well as ever recall pleasant visionary recollections.

Having copied from one of the Carson journals, which one we do not remember—an item to the effect that Gen. John R. Kirtrell; was contemplating an early removal from the State, we have since been otherwise informed, and we are now enabled to state that no such idea is entertained by him. On the contrary, it is his purpose to stay with the pot, and not desert the ship until a Democrat is triumphantly elected President of the United States. This may suggest Macaulay's New Zealander seated on a broken arch of London Bridge, sketching the ruins of Saint Paul's, but it nevertheless indicates a fixed determination of Kirtrell to stay for some time to come.

A Distinguished Visitor En Route.

Hon. Edward Pierpont, ex-Attorney General of the United States, and formerly Minister to England, passed through Omaha Sunday, accompanied by his son, en route to San Francisco, intending to stop two days at Salt Lake, and from San Francisco will go to Puget Sound, and return by the Northern Pacific to the Yellowstone National Park, to spend several weeks there, and will be joined at the park by General Sherman, Chief Justice Waite and Rufus Hatch, and possibly President Arthur.

Reported Ore Strike.

Superintendent Clarke of the Geddis & Bertrand mine, in Secret Canyon, Eureka district, is reported to have uncovered a large body of high-grade carbonate ore in a hill opposite the works, which he claims is a continuation of the ore body in the mine.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-lyr.

Smokers' Paradise.

Nearly every man in Reno indulges in the weed, in some form or other. Some smoke cigars, some pipes, while others prefer a cigarette. It is natural that every one who enjoys a good smoke should like to know where the articles can be procured at a reasonable expense, and at the same time be first-class goods. The place can be found easily. It is at E. Meyer's emporium. The finest brands of imported and domestic cigars are kept constantly in stock, and also a full line of all kinds of cigarettes. Meerschaum and amber goods a specialty. He has also a fine and selected assortment of wooden pipes and stems, together with a large variety of smoking tobacco. Remember the place, next door to Martin & Augustine's.

Osburn & Shoemaker have just received from the manufactory in the East a large lot of Royal St. John Sewing Machines, which they are selling at prices below what other sewing machines can be sold for, as they get them directly from the manufactory and pay no middle-men profits. These are fast becoming the leading machines. Call and see them.

The best known remedy for coughs and colds is the Infalible Cough Mixture prepared by Osburn & Shoemaker.

A splendid stock of fresh garden, field and flower seeds just received at Osburn & Shoemaker's.

Various Quacks.

Who, Each for His Own Pet Scheme, Cultivate the Field of Human Nature.

There have always been quacks—legal quacks, theological, scientific quacks and medical quacks. Some of them are bland, only fellows who argue and smile the world into believing in their favorite bit of humbug. Others are pompous and pretentious parasites. But they make it pay. Men seem to love to be swindled, stipulating only that it shall be neatly done.

The dear public are equally liberal to the electric and magnetic fraud. This fellow is a genius in his line. He will put a magnetic belt around your waist, a magnetic necktie under your chin, or fit you out with an entire suit of magnetic clothes, warranted to serve the purpose of ordinary garments, and at the same time to cure all diseases, from whooping-cough to hasty consumption.

Most of these have no more electric or magnetic power about them than resides in woolen blankets or in girdles of sackcloth. Only when applied by an expert is electricity of the slightest use as a medicinal agent, and even then its value is grossly over-rated. What is the strongest possible presumptive evidence in favor of a particular remedy? Clearly that it should have been prepared by responsible persons of acknowledged skill in the treatment of disease.

Squarely on this foundation stands BEN. SON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTER. Endorsed by 5,000 physicians, pharmacists, druggists and chemists, it needs no further apology nor introduction. It is the one and only true and tried external application. Quacks of all kinds pay the Capsine the compliment of their dislike, as Satin is said to hate holy water. Look in the middle of the plaster for the word "CAPSINE." Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

RENO'S WELCOME TO MEMBERS OF THE GRAND LODGE.

Proceedings of the Grand Lodge Yesterday.

Yesterday was a "red letter" day in the history of Odd Fellowship in Nevada, being the opening of the seventeenth communication of the Right Worthy Grand Lodge. Every feature connected with the occasion contributed to the everlasting impression created. Notwithstanding the general dullness which has prevailed throughout the State the members of the Order, animated as of yore, left their homes and business, to attend this session, and the attendance is really greater than was expected; the delightful weather inspired the old timers to tread as with the elasticity of youth; Reno itself, with its singing birds, shady trees, lovely flowers, pretty women, murmuring waters, handsome homes, noble school-houses, mammoth stores, clean streets, and accommodating men, combined to make it pleasant to the eye of every visitor, and everybody seemed in good humor with himself and his neighbor.

The Reno Subordinate Lodges had prepared for such an important event as the meeting of the Grand Lodge, and nothing has been left undone to suitably receive and entertain the members from abroad. At 10 A. M. yesterday morning Reno and Truckee Lodges, under guidance of J. O. Smith, as Grand Marshal, appeared upon the street in uniform, and proceeded to the Pavilion to meet and escort members of the Grand Lodge to Truckee's Hall. After forming, the procession moved up Centre to Plaza street, up Plaza to Sierra, down Commercial Row to Virginia street, and down Virginia to the Hall. The procession was an imposing one, and crowds thronged the streets to see it, and to listen to the music of the band. Reaching the Hall the literary exercises commenced with the following address of welcome by John Bowman, Past Grand of Truckee Lodge:

Worthy Grand Master, Officers and Representatives of the R. W. Grand Lodge of the State of Nevada: Another year has past and another Grand Lodge has convened for the purpose of transacting such business and making such legislation as the good of the Order requires. And on behalf of Truckee and Reno Lodges, I extend to you a cordial welcome.

We welcome you to our town and to this hall, as the honored and chosen Representatives of the Great Brotherhood of Odd Fellows of the State of Nevada, and we sincerely hope that your labors may be harmonious and satisfactory, both to yourselves and to those you have the honor to represent.

It will be our constant aim and effort to make your stay with us agreeable and pleasant, and we fondly hope that each of you, after you have completed your labors, may return to your respective homes, favorably impressed, and with pleasant recollections of our town and people.

It is a source of pleasure to me to see so many in this assemblage whom we have met in previous convocations of this Grand body, yet sadness and sorrow unavoidably force themselves upon us, when in glancing around this hall we discover that some are missing, that all are not here who met with us one year ago. Some have gone to other countries. Some are languishing on beds of affliction, while some have gone over the river to that country from which no traveler returns.

These dispensations of Providence, forcible reminders of the uncertainty of life, and of all our plans, speculations and aspirations, and should stimulate us to do all the good we can to-day, for no one knows what to-morrow may bring forth.

The history of Odd Fellowship is full of interest to its members. Sixty-nine years ago the first Lodge of Odd Fellows was organized in these United States and was composed at the time of its organization of only five members, and now we number about a half a million. But time will not permit on this occasion of even a casual review of the many incidents, positions, personal exertions and sacrifices through which our Brotherhood has attained its present proportions and honorable standing among the people of the world. Large books have been written upon this subject, yet half has not been told.

Again we welcome you, and may I say your work begun, continued and completed, redound to the interest and honor of our beloved Order.

Grand Master Shoemaker called upon Grand Representative Davenport to respond for the Grand Lodge, which he did as follows:

Bro. John Bowman, P. G., and Brothers of the city of Reno, and you, ladies and gentlemen:

On behalf of the Grand Lodge of Nevada and our most worthy Grand Master, I have to thank you for this triumphant and cordial greeting. We have met for the purpose of legislating in the best interests of the Order, and the perpetuation of its principles, and the exemplification of its work. But, Brothers, without your encouragement our labors will be as fruitless as the uncultivated branch upon the acid plain. This demonstration upon your part shows that you have the good of our beloved Order at heart and that you are willing to sustain and strengthen this integral portion of the fabric of Odd Fellowship. May your energy and industry, in building up and encouraging the Order, be as ceaseless and eternal as the roaring of your grand old river, as it meanders past your beautiful city. To you, ladies and gentlemen, we extend, as members of the Grand Lodge of Nevada, our hearty and sincere thanks for that encouragement and hearty God-speed which your presence here, on this occasion, indicates, and let me assure you, that while we may have a rough, unseemly exterior, you will find many true hearts amongst us.

The choir sang a beautiful piece, and Past Grand Master Adkinson arose in answer to a call from the Grand Master. He spoke highly of the reception given to the Grand Lodge, and referred to their hearty welcome as a universal feature of the order. He said the welcome and the music had touched his heart, and as he watched the heavings of Brother Tuffy's breast and the tears rolling down his cheeks he could hardly control his own voice.

The band played a stirring air, when Past Grand Master Morrison, in response to loud calls, said:

Grand Master, ladies, friends and Brothers:

The eloquent words of welcome that have just dropped the lips of Bro. Bowman, the thrilling songs of welcome to which we have listened from the sweet and cultivated ladies of your choir, but confirm the hearty welcome we have already received from the active, energetic, warm-hearted citizens of this most prosperous town, and while I do not desire to detain you, yet having been called upon, cannot resist the temptation to, in addition to what has been said, tender my hearty and sincere thank for the evidences of hospitality and Western warm-heartedness which has been bestowed upon the members of the Grand Lodge since we, as its representatives, have been in your beautiful valley town. The acts of our glorious Order are so well understood by all in this day of progress and advanced ideas, that to take up your time in repeating them would be unwise, as it is deeds more than words that make full the measure of Odd Fellowship.

That our Order is not perfect we do not deny, because to claim that it is would be to lay ourselves liable to the charge of hypocrisy; but that we are accomplishing much good certainly must be admitted by those who are somewhat inclined to oppose us. That the united efforts of a large body of men, organized for the purpose of aiding each other in distress should be productive of no good, would be an anomaly in the economy of nature, and we claim that with all our imperfections, incident to an Order composed of men from all the walks of life, impregnated with the passions and prejudices to which humanity is heir, we are engaged in a work that benefits to a great extent the entire human family.

That our Order has a great future before it cannot be denied, that its future is bright we have every reason to believe, and as we stand to-day contemplating the fertile valleys of our State, taking into consideration the vast wealth of our mines, the healthfulness of our climate, the energy of the men who have blazed the trail, and made of what was barren waste one vast field of verdure as this and other valleys are, when we look across our snow clad mountains into the bosom of our sister State and see the vast wealth of agriculture, mines, climate and brains, in fact when we take but a glance at the resources of the Pacific States, we are lost in wonder and admiration at the spectacle that is presented to our astonished gaze, and as the future of this section of our Common Country is great, so in proportion will be the growth and moral expansion of our Order. Is it then too much in again thanking you Brothers of the Order, and you ladies and gentlemen who are not members of the Order for the support and encouragement given us by your presence here with us to-day, that as time rolls on, whatever there may be in our Order of weakness, may be cut away, and a noble moral edifice stand forth, challenging both the respect and admiration of the world, and as Representatives may we not indulge the hope that this session of our Grand Lodge will be a pleasant one, and that as in the past, such laws will be made as may be for the best interests of one of the grandest organizations that was ever formed by man for the benefit of his kind.

At the request of the Grand Master the choir sang an ode to the dead, the Grand Lodge rising and standing up. The leader selected "Nearer My God to Thee." Many were moved to tears by the memories awakened. The Grand Master invited any member to speak who desired, but no one responded and he called upon the band for music. The choir sang and the exercises closed with prayer by L. L. Crockett.

Grand Lodge Proceedings.

At 1 o'clock the Grand Lodge opened in form. The following are the committees:

Credentials.—C. W. Jones, D. G. Kitzmeyer, H. Bush.

Finance.—Jno. S. Kaneen, P. G. M., B. F. Wallace, D. B. Boyd.

State of Order.—L. L. Crockett, H. B. McKee, E. A. Yates, J. L. Smith, Wm. Kimble.

Petitions.—G. W. Bryant, J. T. Williams, G. A. Kinkel, J. Organ, A. H. Spaulding.

The different officers made their reports. That of the Grand Master shows a membership of 1748 in Nevada in 29 lodges. Twenty-five lodges are represented here. The Grand Scribe reports receipts $38,124.47 and expenditures $13,903.59. The assets of subordinate lodges amount to $110,069.68. During the year the Grand Master, A. E. Shannon of Eureka has died, also Jas. Duffy, Carson; Jacob Hawley, Tuscarora; J. S. Beam, Carson, and John Benton, Dayton—all members of the Grand Lodge. Mr. Shannon's was the first death that has occurred in that office.

Two amendments to the constitution came up from last year. One to amend the time of meeting was defeated, and one to strike off superfluous titles was passed. There are invitations from Austin, Virginia and other points for next year's meeting.

The members of the Grand Lodge are as follows:

In the way of permanent improvements he has filled the hollows in front of the shoe shop with concrete. He has laid 610 feet of flagging, 95 feet of coping, erected a substantial stone wall 30 inches thick, 27 feet long, and 16 feet 4 inches high, in place of board fence at west side of yard, materially improving appearance and adding much to the security of yard.

He has furnished by direction of the Board of Prison Commissioners, six prisoners with team and accompanying guard, five days, cleaning reservoir for State Capitol Commissioners.

On Decoration Day Mr. Bell gave the convicts a holiday; they played base ball in the forenoon and had music and dancing in the afternoon, with a mutton dinner and plum duff for dessert.
